

1 Slope on the right will sometimes bring an errant tee shot back. Second shot may play 1 club shorter and should also favor the right side.

2 Pin location is key here as it could result in up to a 3-club difference. Shots played to the right of the pin usually work back to the left.

3 This hole has a generous landing area. Green slopes away from the fairway and may not hold shots.

4 Green has three distinct sections. Be sure to check the pin location and take dead aim.

5 Drive to right center is best and an extra club might be necessary to get to the pin on this uphill hole.

6 Drive right or left of the fairway bunker or lay up short. Second shot will run a long ways as this hole is deceptively downhill. If laying up, lay up far enough back to hit a full shot that will have a chance to hold into this green.

7 Drive to the center of the fairway. Make sure you hit your approach to the correct section of the green or you'll be in danger of a three putt.

8 If pin is on the left, be sure you have enough club to carry the bunker. Bailout is right.

9 Left center is best shot off the tee. A right front pin can sometimes be more challenging than back left as the sloped green may not hold your shot.

10 Drive left center. Long hitters will want to favor the left side of the green on second shot. Lay ups should play to right center of the fairway and back far enough to hit a full shot in.

12 Favor the left side off the tee. If pin is back right, make sure you have enough club to carry the bunker.

13 One of the most challenging holes on property. This par 4 plays all uphill. Tee shot should favor the left side. You'll need extra club (s) on your second shot.

14 One of the tighter driving holes on this course. Drive to right center to ensure that the large maple near the green will not come into play.

15 The severe uphill approach and narrow two-tiered green make this hole more challenging than it appears. Two to four clubs extra are needed on approach depending on pin location.

16 Drive should favor the right side. This green slopes from left to right and favors a high, soft approach.

17 Downhill par 3 that has a plateau green complex. The bunkering is not only beautiful but also may save an errant shot from the point of no return.

18 Drive right of fairway bunker. Check pin location prior to second shot as this green can be tricky if hit into the wrong section.
